INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONDUCTED INTERVIEWS WITH 20+ CLIENTS TO UNDERSTAND THE IMPACT OF THE PANDEMIC

- The pandemic has been disruptive in some way to all businesses – some more than others, and some have seen new opportunities and business as a result.
- International business is as important or more important to VEDP International Trade clients in light of the pandemic.
  - Diversification of client base
  - Integral to overall business and sales strategy
- Companies continue to see value in VEDP International Trade resources, in some cases now more than ever, and plan to utilize services in the next year.
- Most clients are ready to travel as soon as it is feasible, but don’t see it being so before 2021.
- Companies are looking to connect with current and potential international sales partners and need to do so without traveling. Opportunity for VEDP to facilitate virtual matchmaking and connect them with tools to manage and train international partners digitally.
- As companies face new challenges, there is an opportunity for VEDP to provide new services and resources:
  - Cybersecurity audits and compliance
  - Digital marketing
  - Virtual trade shows
  - Managing international distributors/partners – staying top of mind
